MADE A FINE IMPRESSION

Every One Pleased With Senator Gore.

Many Found a Resemblance Between His Eloquence and That of Vance—As Attractive Off the Platform As On It—His Almost Superhuman Powers of Perception—Visits Battle Ground and Goes to Salisbury.

The charming personality, the splendid argumentative and forensic power of United States Senator Gore, who spoke here Tuesday night, and tarried long yesterday morning, was the talk of the town. "He is more like Vance in his anecdotes and humor, his rugged eloquence and quaint quips of surprising climax, which kills without a sting, than I have ever heard," was the comment of a Republican, whose name and attainments are known beyond the borders of the State. On all sides, this likeness to Vance in one form or another, was heard from all oldtimers. The younger men, Democratic or Republican, who never knew or heard Vance, almost without exception, declared it was the best and most entertaining speech they ever heard.

A test of any big address before a city audience is the power of the speaker to hold his crowd. Measured by this the blind Senator scored, for there were more people present when he concluded his two hours' argument than there was half an hour after he had commenced. Having only two hours' notice that he would speak in the opera house, it was impossible to get the intelligence all over the city by the time the speaking began. Still there were 800 people present at eight o'clock, and by ten o'clock when the last word was uttered, fully a thousand hearers shook with laughter at his last anecdote, and hung with close embrace to his closing and eloquent tribute to the saving influence for the people's good of the Democratic doctrines of Jefferson and the Democratic blows of Jackson.

No less attractive was the Senator off the platform. Blind though he was, he made his way without a guide. Marvelous as seemed his accurate memory, when in his speech he quoted off hand figures, and statistics and expressions from public prints or public characters, sacred or profane, modern or classic, his ready recognition of local citizens by something they had done in the past or present was equally remarkable.

He could not have been "posted" beforehand on these particular individuals, because in each instance below mentioned, their introduction to him, was unpremeditated and entirely on the spontaneous order, when a hundred were introduced in a ten minutes.

First and foremost, when Chairman Sherrill introduced Press Correspondent Joyner, as Mr. Joyner, a newspaper man and a special correspondent of the News and Observer, he took time at once to say, "Why I'm glad to see you. Tom Pence sent his love to you, and when you write to my friend Jo Daniels tell him I sent my love to him." The next man he seemed to wish to locate was Capt. James W. Forbis, Democratic candidate for Superior court clerk. "Captain Forbis," he repeated, "are you a descendant of Captain Arthur Forbis, who fought and was killed at the battle of Guilford Court House in the Revolutionary war." "Yes, sir," stammered the astonished and delighted Captain Jim. "I am a great grandson of Arthur Forbis." "Then sir," replied Mr. Gore, "I hope to be honored by having you accompany me to the Battle Ground when I go there tomorrow morning."

"Let me introduce you to Hon. E. J. Justice," said Chairman Sherill, to the statesman. "Why Mr. Speaker Justice, I'm delighted to meet you and to say I've been with you, and kept up with you all along," was his immediate responsive exclamation.

Another instance suffices to absolutely establish some occult power beyond gift of heart or brain to this gifted unfortunate (?).

Solicitor Sam Gattis bears a remarkable resemblance to the handsome, rotund, fine-faced, genial President, William H. Taft. No two twin brothers ever looked more alike, as to head, face, moustache and mouth, and their abdominal lines are exactly similar, excusing that the President's are a little more extended and capacious. "This is our Democratic Solicitor, Senator," introduced Mr. Sherrill. "Hon. Sam Gattis of Orange." "Happy to meet you," said the Senator as he shook hands, appearing to linger lovingly hold of the palm, while Mr. Gattis breathed the customary happy amenities of welcome, in his peculiarly happy smiling tones of voice, and passed on. Chairman Sherrill fell over in a faint, when the blind man remarked: "I see he is a fat, jolly gentleman, and something about him reminded me of our President." A correspondent overtook the then distant Gattis, called him back, told him in the presence of Mr. Gore of what he had said about him, and Mr. Gattis is similing yet.

The Senator says he can get about all right alone, with his sense of instinct, except when snow covers the ground, evening up things, and then he loses his bearings, and is helpless.

Senator Gore, accompanied by a large escort, left here at one o'clock yesterday for Salisbury, where he was to speak yesterday afternoon.

He was the center of much attention at the Guilford hotel during the forenoon, many prominent Democrats and Republicans calling to pay their respects, and pass the time of day in genial intercourse. At ten o'clock, he was taken in Col. Neill Vanstory's automobile for a trip over the historic Battle Ground of Guilford court house. Among distinguished local and state celebrites who accompanied the distinguished guest, in other automobiles were County Chairman Ed Sherrill, District Chairman A. Wayland Cooke, Hon. A. L. Brooks, Gen. Julian S. Carr, Col. Ashley Horne, Capt. James W. Forbis, and the president and preserver of the sacred precincts and traditions of the battle ground, Major Joseph M. Morehead. It was most appropriate that in the conveyance with Senator Gore were President Morehead and Capt. Forbis, whose great grandfather gave his life fighting for American liberty, and whose remains now rest under a monument on the battle ground in memory of the heroism of Capt. Arthur Forbis.

MORE CORN, MORE WHEAT, MORE FRUIT THAN EVER

Observant Traveling Man Says This Is a Banner Year With the Farmers.

A traveling man who has been going up and down the country for many years said yesterday that there was more corn, more wheat and more fruit of all sorts this year than he had ever seen before.

He was speaking with especial reference to North and South Carolina and Virginia, in which states he says the farmers are especially well fixed this year.

Of the three states he says that in South Carolina the best farming prevails. In that State much of the farming is of the "intensive" variety.

The gentleman expressed himself as believing that scientific farming could be done more generally in Guilford than is the case and that Guilford county farmers should bestir themselves and be leaders in the "new" farming of the present day.

REAL ESTATE DEAL RUMORED

Possible That Greene Street Property Will Be Used For Interurban Terminal.

The John L. King property on Greene street, between Gaston and Bellemeade streets, is said to have changed hands recently and there is good reason to believe that the Southern Power Company or interests allied with that corporation are the purchasers.

The principals to the contract are not doing any talking, but it is street rumor that the deal is as good as closed and that the consideration is $20,000.

Of course the use which the purchasers of the property will make of it is as yet a mere matter of conjecture, but it is being freely guessed that the Southern Power Company had its need of an interurban depot site in mind when it entered into negotiations for the purchase of the property.

Thrown From Horse and Killed.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 21.—Information was received in Savannah this morning that E. T. Peabody, a well known citizen of Waycross had been thrown from a horse there and killed. Mr. Peabody was president of the Epworth League of Georgia and was prominent in Methodist church circles throughout the state.

Building Permits.

Building Inspector Milton has issued a permit to Dr. B. B. Williams for the erection of a 12 room residence on West Sycamore street. The estimated cost is $7,500. A permit has also been issued to W. E. Slade for the erection of a four room residence on Julian street, the estimated cost being $400.

ERADICATION OF HOOKWORM

Crusade Being Made Throughout State.

Looking to Stamping Out of Dread Disease—Free Prescriptions by Medical Societies—Alarming Conditions Found In Orphanages and Schools Where Inmates Have Been Examined—Brought To Raleigh to Escape Lynching.

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—The hookworm specialists find that 75 per cent of the boys and 53 per cent of the girls in the Methodist Orphanage here are infected with the disease, this condition having been found after examination of all the 131 children in the orphanage. Furthermore there were found ten cases of dwarfed tapeworm. These investigations have developed conditions thus far that are quite startling in that examinations have shown that one third of six hundred college students examined, are infected and forty-two per cent of more than one thousand men of the North Carolina National Guard are infected. Also the examination of the children of the Odd Fellows' Orphanage showed 54 per cent of the 96 children being cared for there infected. And three girls and two boys with dwarf tapeworm. The director of the hookworm campaign in North Carolina, Dr. J. A. Ferrell, says that there is constant headway being made in enlisting the cooperation of men and women, leaders in the various walks of life throughout the State in this crusade against the hookworm. The county superintendents of schools, in their recent state convention pledged the fullest co-operation; medical societies of Wake, Guilford and a number of the other largest counties have recently joined large numbers of others in pledging full endorsement and co-operation, including free prescriptions for the disease where found. Guilford is to have a semi-public meeting of that Medical Society with officers of the county and leaders in various phases of county life participating with a view to attaining the greatest possible campaign for wiping out the disease in Guilford. Hon. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction is issuing a pamphlet for use in all the schools of the State for helping along the work of eradication.

Norman Lewis, colored, brought here last evening to prevent a lynching in Nash county where the people are greatly inflamed over his having shot down and probably mortally wounded Chief of Police Stallings, of Spring Hope, is spending his time quietly in a cell in Wake county jail and persists in the story he told when he was arrested yesterday that he did not shoot Stallings, but that the shot was fired by his wife who was covering the chief of police with a revolver to enable him to get away from the house where the officer was seeking to arrest him. Lewis is to be held here until conditions quiet sufficiently in Nash for it to be safe to take him back for trial.

Plan To Raise the Maine.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 21.—The big floating dry dock purchased at the close of the Spanish-American war from Spain and towed to the Pensacola navy yard, where it has since been in use, is to be used in raising the battleship Maine in Havana harbor. Army engineers are now engaged in taking measurements of the vessel, with a view of ascertaining its lifting strength. Afterwards it is proposed to dock the battleships and powerful tugs will tow the dock its burden across to whatever point desired. The dock, when it was constructed in England for Spain, was guaranteed to lift a vessel of 10,000 net tonnage.

Ballinger Entertained.

Denver, Col., Sept. 21.—Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger, who is on his way to Washington to attend the reassembling of President Taft's cabinet, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon tendered him today by the chamber of commerce and the real estate exchange of this city. Mr. Ballinger will speak along the lines of work of his department.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to take this method of thanking our neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses shown us during the sickness and death of our baby.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Cheek.

VESTAL TRIAL THIS MORNING

Murder Case to be Called at 11 O'clock.

Special Venire of One Hundred and Fifty Men Summoned To Select Jury From—Doctor and Wife Arraigned Yesterday Morning—Callie Nettles Gets Two Years—Pegram Arson Case Now Being Tried—Other Cases.

Dr. W. L. Vestal and wife, Fannie Vestal, were arraigned in Guilford Superior Court yesterday morning to answer to the charge of murder. Through counsel they pleaded not guilty and the case was set for trial this morning at 11 o'clock. A special venire of 150 men was ordered summoned to select the jury from. The case will likely consume a day and a half.

The defendants appeared calm and collected when they were brought before the bar of justice yesterday morning. Their physical condition was much better than when they were committed to jail on July 4. Then they were exceedingly nervous and showed the effects of excessive doping. Now this habit has been cured and the prisoners are in much better health. They do not appear to fear the result of the trial or they are indifferent to their fate.

The case will be hard fought. The defendants are represented by Messrs. W. P. Bynum, Wescott Roberson and C. C. Barnhart. Solicitor Gattis will likely by assisted by County Attorney J. N. Wilson.

The case of Callie Nettles, the negro woman charged with murdering her infant child, was taken up yesterday afternoon and a verdict of guilty of manslaughter was returned. Judge Lyon sentenced her to two years in jail, the commissioners being given the privilege of hiring her out for that period and applying the proceeds to the payment of the costs in the case.

The case of State vs. R. W. Pegram, the Stokesdale merchant charged with setting his store on fire in order to obtain insurance, was taken up yesterday afternoon and will not be concluded before the hour set for the Vestal case. There is an imposing array of witnesses, both for the State and the defense. The charge was preferred by Deputy State Insurance Commissioner W. A. Scott after making an investigation as to the origin of the fire. Ex-Solicitor A. L. Brooks is assisting Solicitor Gattis in the prosecution, while ex-Judge W. P. Bynum and C. O. McMichael, Esq., of Wentworth, appear for the defendant.

Several cases were disposed of yesterday. Hence Caldwell, who was found guilty of retailing, was sentenced to eight months on the roads. An appeal was taken, Judge Lyon having overruled a motion for a new trial. The appearance bond was fixed at $300 and the appeal bond at $50. Bert Slade and Addie Cecil were found guilty of engaging in an affray. Judgment was suspended on payment of one half the costs as to Slade, while judgment was continued as to the woman. Luther Proctor was found not guilty of retailing. Clarence Brown was fined $2 and costs in a case charging assault. W. P. Royster, of High Point, was found not guilty of the charge of resisiting an officer. John Clodfetter, of High Point, was found guilty of stealing a suit of clothes from a store. He was allowed to pay a fine of $25 and costs, providing he paid for the stolen clothes. W. Bradwell, of High Point, was convicted on the charge of retailing and sentenced to a term of six months on the roads. Notice of appeal was given, the bond being fixed at $200.

Buffalo Revival.

The revival at Buffalo Presbyterian church, north of the city, continues with increased interest. Rev. W. M. Sikes, who is assisting the pastor, is preaching fine sermons. Last night his subject was "The Open Door" and the sermon was a forceful one. Preaching tonight at 7:30 o'clock. On Friday there will be two services. At 10:30 in the morning and at 7:30 in the evening. The public cordially invited.

Only One Case.

There was only one case in Municipal court yesterday morning, the lone defendant being charged with being drunk and disorderly. The usual fine was imposed.

SITE FOR MASONIC AND EASTERN STAR HOME.

The Directors Will Locate Institution At Meeting In Charlotte Today.

Mr. L. M. Clymer, accompanied by Rev. W. C. Wicker, Messrs. J. P. Sanders and J. J. Phoenix and perhaps other local Masons, will leave this morning for Charlotte to attend a meeting of the directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home this afternoon. Mr. Clymer goes as a member of the board and as a member of the committee of site, while the others go to urge the directors to select Greensboro as the place in which to locate the institution.

The members of the directors are Grand Master R. N. Hackett, Wilkesboro, chairman; F. N. Winchester, Charlotte, secretary and treasurer; A. J. Parker, Louisburg; Capt. W. H. McLaurin, Laurinburg; M. W. White, Mooresville, and L. M. Clymer, Greensboro, representing the Grand Lodge. Mrs. W. H. Woodbury, Murphy; Mrs. E. L. Travis, Halifax, and J. W. Rowell, Wingate, are the representatives of the Grand Chapter. The committee on site which will report the condition of the several sites investigated and the cash donations offered, is composed of R. N. Hackett, L. M. Clymer, F. N. Winchester and W. H. McLaurin.

The cities bidding for the site are Greensboro, Shelby, High Point, Southern Pines, Mooresville and King's Mountain. While none of the members of the committee would have anything to say regarding the location of the institution it is understood that the contest will be between Greensboro and Shelby. Each city has offered a splendid site and a cash donation of more than $5,000. It is believed that the accessibility of Greensboro will have some weight with the directors in choosing the location. And there are in the county 450 Masons and 75 Eastern Stars, the largest membership of any county pulling for the institution. The Greensboro Masons will make a determined effort to induce the directors to select Greensboro.

CASE—BROOKS.

Pretty Home Wedding At Residence of Bride Yesterday Morning.

The home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Martha J. Brooks, 411 North Cedar street, was the scene of a pretty home wedding yesterday morning at seven o'clock when Miss Dexie Brooks became the bride of Mr. Thomas E. Case, of Winston. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Elder C. F. Denny, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

The parlor, where the ceremony was performed, had been beautifully decorated with ferns and goldenrod.

The best man, Mr. Roy Case, brother of the groom, and the maid of honor, Miss Bertha Brooks, sister of the bride, the latter wearing pink linen with net lace and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations, were the first to enter the parlor. Then came the bride and groom, the bride wearing French batiste and carrying a bouquet of Bride roses.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Case left for their future home in Winston-Salem.

The bride is an attractive young lady and has numerous friends in the city who will learn with interest of her marriage. The groom is also well known here, having been connected with the local store of the C. D. Kenny Company. He was recently made manager of the Winston store of the above firm.

To Succeed Skinner.

It is rumored that when the Republican State Executive Committee meets again in this city Mr. Z. V. Walser, of Lexington, will be nominated as associate justice of the Supreme court in lieu of Mr. Harry Skinner, who refused to make the race. At Republican headquarters this rumor was neither affirmed nor denied. No date has been set for the meeting of the committee, or if it has the date would not be given out. Mr. Walser was in the city yesterday and while here conferred with the Republican leaders. Mr. A. L. Coble, of Statesville, is also being mentioned.

Cigar Factory.

Mr. A. Schneider, vice president of Seidenberg & Co., the cigar manufacturers, spent yesterday here for a "look-in" on the Greensboro factory. He left here last night for a visit to the Greenville and Charleston factories. Seidenberg & Co., also operate a factory at Camden, N. J., and one at Trenton, N. J.

To Arrange Schedule.

The Republican county candidates will meet Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the office of County Chairman Worth for the purpose of discussing a schedule for the county campaign and arranging the dates for the several speakers.

THE ADJOURNED MASS MEETING

City Charter to be Discussed Tonight.

Citizens To Meet In Court House For Purpose of Discussing the Sections Objected To At Monday Night's Meeting and Suggest Such Changes As Are Deemed Wise and Proper—All Citizens Urged To Come Out.

The adjourned mass meeting of the citizens for the purpose of discussing the sections of the proposed charter of the city will be held in the county court house tonight at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance. Every citizen interested in the welfare of the city is cordially invited to be present and participate in the discussion.

As has been stated heretofore the meeting is for the purpose of giving every citizen in the city a chance to express his views as to the different sections in the charter. A summary of the entire charter was read Monday night and objections were filed to several sections. Tonight these sections will be taken up one by one and the objections set forth, together with proposed changes which may make the charter more effective and insure better service under the commission plan. If all the sections objected to cannot be reached the meeting will be adjourned from time to time until every citizen who desires to do so has ample time to express his views.

Section six will be the first section taken up. This provides for four commissioners, one of whom shall be the mayor. Some think that two commissioners in addition to the mayor could easily look after the city's interests as well as four. This will be discussed at length and the section changed or allowed to stand, according to the result of the discussion. Then section eight, fixing the duties of the mayor, will be taken up and discussed. Some are of the opinion that the mayor should have general oversight over all the city's affairs and have several subordinates under him. This section will either be changed or allowed to stand as the citizens may determine.

And so on all the way through the charter. When one section is taken up it will be discussed until some agreement is reached before another section is taken up. It may take a week and maybe longer, but the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, under whose instructions the charter was drafted, want the charter so worded that the greatest possible benefit will accrue and time will not count if this end can be reached.

So if you want to help make Greensboro a bigger and better city attend the meeting tonight and when you get there be free to express your views on every matter brought up and thus aid the Chamber of Commerce in serving you.

The Auxiliary Plant.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce was before the Aldermen at the special meeting Tuesday night and asked that the Street Commission be authorized to raise Battle Ground avenue on either side of North Buffalo, also the bridge across the stream. It was stated that the Southern Power Company wanted to have a lake at the auxiliary plant to be built here and wanted to use the street as an embankment for one side. The requeset was complied with and the work will be done at once. The Power Company is to place the dirt on the street, the only work to be required of the city is the grading and putting a gravel finish after the dirt is in place and the raising of the bridge.

Southern Railway Officials Pass Through.

President W. W. Finley, Passenger Traffic Manager S. H. Hardwick and other officials of the Southern passed through here yesterday on a special train. They arrived at 1 o'clock from Durham and left at 2 for Salisbury. They are making a tour of inspection of certain parts of the system.

Law Offices Moved.

Mr. S. Clay Williams has moved into the offices formerly occupied by Stedman & Cooke. The offices vacated by Mr. Williams will be occupied by Hudson & Swift. The changes were effected yesterday.

THE PHONE AND THE RURAL PROBLEM

Atlanta Constitution.

Roosevelt's country life commission designated the telephone one of the foremost influences making for the solution of the rural problem. The experience of Georgia and other Southern states is convincing testimony in that direction.

The following extract from The Union (S. C.) Times sets forth this fact in remarkably brief compass, while drawing attention to the unique role the rural 'phone plays in politics:

There is no disputing the fact that the rural telephone has come to stay, and that it is one of the greatest conveniences of modern times. The efforts now being put forth by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company to establish these rural lines should receive the hearty indorsement of all our people. The line to Kelton is already proving itself a very great convenience. Now that the election is to come off on August 30, we expect to get the returns within a few minutes of the time that the vote there is counted. Now, if we had a direct wire to Cross Keys and West Springs and to Meador's and to Whitmire, what an easy task we would have to get the returns from every box in the county! Not only that, but the people living along these lines could get the returns from all over the county just as fast as the papers could add up and tabulate the results here. Look here, Mr. Farmer, let's get busy and get these lines scattered throughout our county before another two years. And election returns is but one of the many advantages. If we had good roads and telephone lines how easy to get a doctor in time of sudden illness. Then, too, how easy for the resident in the country to ring up Union, Jonesville, New York—in fact, any market, and get prices or any other valuable information in connection with the marketing of his products! We believe the day of the rural telephone and of good roads is at hand. An advancing civilization is crying loudly for these two marks of a progressive people.

The farm lines that make almost a network of Georgia comprised a material factor in the case with which The Constitution made its unprecedented reports of the results of the State's recent gubernatorial election.

It was notable that returns came in from those counties well supplied with the rural 'phone infinitely more quickly than from those counties that have not yet seen the light in the right place.

The Times is correct. The political usefulness of the rural 'phone is one of its smallest advantages. The farmer with this instrument in his house keeps a finger on the pulse of the market, has the doctor almost next door, is protected in the event of fire and is in immediate touch with his neighbor as well as with civilization, so far as this country is concerned.

When it considered that the average farmer can install this advance agent of development at a cost less than the present return from a bale of cotton, it is not difficult to understand why the rural 'phone is making great strides in this as in other states.

FIRST POST HOUSES.

Established by Cyrus, the Founder of the Persian Empire.

The first posts are said to have originated in the regular couriers established by Cyrus the Great about 550 B. C., who erected post houses throughout the kingdom of Persia. Augustus was the first to introduce this institution among the Romans, 31 B. C., and he was imitated by Charlemagne about 800 A. D. Louis XI. was the first sovereign to establish post houses in France, owing to his eagerness for news, and they were also the first institution of this nature in Europe. This was in 1470, or about 2,000 years after they were started in Persia.

In England in the reign of Edward IV. (1481) riders on post horses went stages of the distance of twenty miles from each other in order to procure the king the earliest intelligence of the events that passed in the course of the war that had arisen with the Scots. A proclamation was issued by Charles I. in 1631 that, "whereas to this time there hath been no certain intercourse between the kingdoms of England and Scotland, the king now commands his postmaster of England for foreign parts to settle a running post or two between Edinburgh and London to go thither and come back again in six days."

HAIR SOFT AS SILK.

New Scientific Treatment Kills Dandruff Germs and Makes Hair Soft.

It is an accepted fact, a proven fact, that dandruff is a germ disease; and it is also a demonstrated fact that Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff falling hair would stop, and thin hair will thicken. Herpicide not only kills the dandruff germ, but it also makes hair as soft as silk. It is the most delightful hair dressing made. It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and keeps it clean and healthy. Itching and irritation are instantly relieved, and permanently cured. There's nothing "just as good." Take no substitute. Ask for "Herpicide." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

An Experiment

By R. PEMBERTON SLADE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

When I was surgeon on board the Allemania, making trips between Bremen and Philadelphia, as I was taking my constitutional one afternoon on the upper deck a lady sitting in a steamer chair accosted me.

"I believe you are the ship's medical man," she said.

"I am," I responded, raising my cap.

"If you will kindly sit by me I will tell you of an operation I am thinking of having performed."

I dropped in the vacant chair beside her, and she began.

"My eyes are a natural freak," she said. "You will perceive that my right eye is black and my left is steel color. I, being a woman, am very sensitive to my personal appearance. Now, I wish to talk with you of the feasibility of making my eyes the same color."

"That is impossible," I said decidedly.

"Why?"

"Why—why, because it is impossible."

"I have thought much of the matter and have conceived a plan by which I think it can be done."

"You? Do you know anything about surgery of the eye?"

"Not professionally."

"Then why do you aspire to suggest a process that an educated oculist would not even consider?"

"Because I believe it is possible."

Thinking the woman might be insane, I looked her in both eyes—for the eye is a telltale on insanity—but could see no indications as to what I suspected.

"Very well," I said. "What is your process?"

"I propose to tattoo my gray eye with India ink."

I was at first disposed to smile at the idea, but it soon occurred to me that if the India ink could be placed beneath the surface of the cornea, as it may be tattooed under the skin—Nonsense! Does not the pupil contract and dilate? When much contracted it would leave a ring of the original color.

"My dear young lady," I said, "your scheme is preposterous."

"Nevertheless I shall try it."

"And lose your eye."

"That is my only fear. But I have decided to take the risk."

Finding it impossible to dissuade her or induce her even to wait till she reached port, where she could be knocked out of her crazy idea by an oculist, in order to save her from the probable consequences of her experiment I said:

"The cornea of the eye is not sensitive. Indeed, it is really a casing to the eye, something like an onion. Now, I would suggest, since you will not listen to reason, that I tattoo some harmless fluid of the proper color on the eye as near as possible to the pupil. True, it will soon be absorbed, but it will be a test to guide us as to whether it will be safe to repeat the operation with a durable filling."

"How long will this experimental fluid remain?" asked the lady.

"Several days perhaps, possibly longer."

"The very thing! Will you perform the operation?"

"Not unless you refuse to promise that you will not do it yourself."

"I certainly shall do it myself unless you consent to do it for me."

"Well, then, whenever you are ready come to my office."

The lady did not come to me till the day before we were due in port. It seemed absurd to attend to a matter about which there was not the slightest necessity for haste, and I made a strenuous attempt to persuade her to defer the operation till after she had landed. But she resolutely persisted in her intention to perform it herself before a glass if I declined, and, knowing that this, especially on a rolling ship, might result in the loss of the eye, I finally gave in.

Taking a lot of needles, I tied them into a bundle, dipped them into a harmless vegetable preparation and tapped the eye with their points ever so lightly. This I kept up till the surface to be covered was so nearly of the hue of the other eye that the difference could not be easily detected.

The next day when the lady went ashore she was profuse in her thanks and volunteered to advise me of the success of the experiment. I told her I should be interested to hear it, though, to tell the truth, I never expected to hear from her again, regarding her one of those many cranks who appear to be perfectly sane, but in whose makeup some screw is loose.

A couple of weeks later I received a letter, the handwriting of which was not familiar to me. Indeed, it bore evidence of having been disguised. It read:

My Dear Doctor—I am happy to report to you that the experiment was admirably successful. The tattoo lasted about ten days, which was all that was required. The customs officers had a description of me, their attention having been especially directed to my one gray and one black eye. They were watching very carefully when I descended the gangplank and spotted me for everything except the eyes. Thanks to you I got $50,000 worth of diamonds through duty free. Your fee by express.

The letter was unsigned. The next day I received a package containing a fine diamond, which I had mounted for a solitaire stud.

After that I refused any request of a passenger unless I understood the reason for its asking.

We begin to see the light—we mean the light from those street lamps that Greensboro has been needing so long.

William Barnes, Jr., who is leading the fight in New York against the Colonel, is as fruitful of statements as the colonel is of books. He would perhaps make better headway if he would do less talking.

Senator Gore's speech was one of the speeches that leave a pleasant taste in the mouth. A public speaker, in order to hold the attention and to win people over, has got to be entertaining. Any public speaker should have a well-stocked fund of illustrations and be able to apply them.

Our contemporary, the Wilmington Dispatch, since our acquaintance with it, has outgrown two homes and moved into its third. The Dispatch actually outgrows its homes before it gets accustomed to them and before they can possibly come to feel real "homey." In some respects, therefore, we are sorry for our hustling contemporary.

Dr. Osler has held that "the cure of tuberculosis is a question of nutrition." In other words, it is a question of fattening the patient by the use of suitable diet.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

And isn't the same thing true of any disease? Poorly nourished people are an easy prey to almost any kind of malady and as a matter of course the nourishment is a large part of the means of restoring the sick to health and strength. To keep the body well nourished is an important duty to every person who wishes to be capable of the greatest possible amount of effort.

Victor L. Berger, the prominent Milwaukee Socialist, is not an ardent admirer of Col. Roosevelt. He says the ex-President reminds him of a little boy robbing a bird's nest. "He doesn't know why he robs," says Berger. "He doesn't think of the pain the robbery may cause the birds. He just robs because he is like a boy with robbery his special habit. Roosevelt is like the thoughtless boy and naturally superficial. He never takes time to think, and never, therefore, gets to the bottom of anything, but romps on, careless of any result." Certainly anybody that talks as much as the former President does is liable now and then to say some thoroughly foolish things.

This old town rang yesterday with the praise of Senator Gore's speech Tuesday night. Men who had heard Vance said that Gore's style of speaking was like Vance's, which was a great compliment indeed. The coming of a man like Gore into a community should be and is an influence for good. The Senator is a man who has made the most of his opportunities. What he has done he has done the best he knew. With the most of us the disposition to hurry through with our work and to do it in a slovenly manner is rather strong. Mr. Gore evidently has the infinite capacity for taking pains which some great writer has designated as genius. He makes the ideal political speech—one-fourth argument and three-fourths wit and humor.

The Aldermen and the Public Service Company will in all probability get together tomorrow night on a street lighting proposition. We have confidence in the Public Service Company to do the square thing by the city and we don't believe that they will get out of their contract with the city any more than the reasonable profit to which all honest effort is entitled. Since the Coler syndicate got in control of the local electric plant, it has, it has seemed to us, shown a sincere desire to treat the people fairly and has at the same time exhibited a financial strength to do things and to do them well that is decidedly reassuring, coming after the somewhat unsettled condition of the finances and capacity of the old company.

The Guarantee.

Gobsa Golde, the American millionaire, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Lotta, picked out a Rembrandt at a foreign dealer's and then, before planking down the cash, said very sternly:

"Now, see here, sir, do you guarantee this Rembrandt?"

"Yes, Mr. Golde," the dealer replied. "A seven years' guarantee goes with the canvas."

"Oh, very well," said Gobsa, mollified, and he took out his check book and fountain pen.—Washington Star.

A Bigger Bid.

A Lincolnshire parish once possessed a clergyman who was not much appreciated. One day he remarked to his church warden: "You people don't seem to appraciate me. Do you know that on leaving my last sphere of work the people showed their appreciation so much that they gave me a real silver slaver?"

"That is nothing," was the churchwarden's reply. "If tha' would only go away from this parish we'd give thee a gold un!"—London Chronicle.

Her Jewels.

Mrs. Subbubs (to neighbor)—Willie and Bobbie aren't home from school yet, and here it is 5 o'clock. Did you see anything of my precious jewels as you came along, Mr. Nexdore? Nexdore—Your precious jewels are in soak, madam. I just saw them swimming in the river.—Boston Transcript.

Ticklish.

"How many ribs have you?" asked the teacher.

"I don't know, ma'am," giggled Sallie. "I'm so awfully ticklish, I could never count 'em."—Lippincott's.

No Temptation.

"James, can I trust you with the key to the wine cellar?"

The New Butler (stiffly)—Certainly, sir! I have seen all the labels.—Life.

Set not thyself to attain much rest, but much patience.—Thomas a Kempis.

Be sure you are right then go ahead, but don't tear up your return ticket.

How She Caught Them.

"How did you happen to get four times as many letters as I did?" said one washerwoman who had advertised for work by the day to another who had advertised for the same thing.

"Wound up my advertisement by saying I was on a diet," said the lucky one. "That 'on a diet' notice goes right to the heart of stingy souls who are trying to cut down expenses. They hate to figure on a washerwoman's meals and jump at the chance of getting one who doesn't eat.—New York Sun.

Often the Case.

"You can pretty safely bet," began the man who thought he knew, "that any woman who doesn't gush over a pretty baby is a confirmed old maid."

"Not always," replied the real wiseacre. "She may be a mother who has a baby she thinks is prettier."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Truthful.

Angry Father (to son)—You never saw me getting into a scrape like that when I was a boy. Flippant Son—No, dad, I never did.—Exchange.

Judging from some of his mistakes Cupid might just as well be armed w a pea shooter.

A man's task is always light if the heart is light.—Lew Wallace.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Pursuant to the power vested in the mortgagee by virtue of a certain mortgage deed, executed by Lottie Gorrell to Joseph J. Cox, on the 19th day of September, 1910, duly recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of Guilford county, State of North Carolina, in Book 131 page 774, the undersigned will expose for sale at public auction, at the court house door in the City of Greensboro, N. PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Miss Elza Richardson Becomes Bride of Mr. William S. Middlemas, of Louisiana.

One of the pretty home weddings of the week was that of Miss Elza Burton Richardson to Mr. William Steel Middlemas, solemnized Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Will Armfield, South Ashe street.

The parlors and hall had been tastefully decorated in ferns and palms and just at noon, in the presence of a number of friends the bride entered the parlor on the arm of her brother, who gave her away. She wore a dress of chiffon marquisette over white tricot satin, trimmed with old laces, heirlooms through her maternal grandmother.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. K. McLarty and the wedding march was played by Miss Ruth Stahl, the march being preceded by the song "I Love You Truly," sung by Miss Ruth Hughes.

In the dining room, following the ceremony, Miss Myrtle Armfield and Miss Nell Clark presided at the punch bowl, dispensing refreshments.

The bride is a popular young lady of this city and the groom is prominent in railroad circles in Louisiana, being superintendent of construction on a division of the Southern Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Middlemas left on Tuesday, No 36 for a trip including Washington, New York, and various points in Canada, expecting to reach their new home in Lafayette, La., about October tenth.

INTEREST IN WEST MARKET REVIVAL INCREASING

The interest in the revival at West Market Street Methodist church is steadily increasing and large congregations are attending the services. The pastor, Rev. E. K. McLarty, is preaching forceful sermons that are being listened to attentively. Services each night at 8 o'clock. At 7:30 o'clock the Philathea class holds a prayer service, as do the women at 4 o'clock. Yesterday at noon the Bible classes of Mr. C. H. Ireland and Dr. J. S. Betts held prayer services that were largely attended. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

Democratic Headquarters.

County Chairman Sherrill yesterday opened headquarters in the rooms in Court Square formerly occupied by Hudson & Swift. He will wage a strenuous campaign from this time on. A schedule for the campaign will be announced shortly.

Ex-Governor On Return from Campaigning Tour Says Conditions Are Fine From Democratic Viewpoint—Predicts Large Majority This Year — New Charters.

Raleigh, Sept. 21.—Ex-Gov. Charles B. Aycock, just back from a campaigning trip that included Statesville, Mooresville, Winston-Salem and Durham says he finds conditions very good from a Democratic viewpoint. He says that for his speech at Winston-Salem there was the biggest and most enthusiastic crowd he has had there in years and he believes Forsyth will be redeemed for Democracy this time by a substantial majority. He says that at Durham he found conditions encouraging, although he found something of a scare among some Democrats with absolutely nothing that he could observe to warrant the fright. He believes Durham is securely moored to the Democratic ship and will give an increased majority.

Three new charters are granted by the secretary of state. The E. B. Lyon Motor Car Co., of Durham, organizes with authority specified to deal in automobiles and flying machines and supplies for the machines. The capital is $50,000 with E. B. Lyon, J. M. Black and J. E. Johnson as the incorporators.

Tht Merchants' and Farmers' Bonded Warehouse Co., Charlotte, is another new corporation, capital $25,000, by C. W. Johnston and others. The third charter is to the Rowan Drug Co., Spencer, N. C., capital $10,000, by R. C. Bell and others.

It is understood here that Congressman E. W. Pou will accept the challtnge of R. A. P. Cooley, Democratic independent candidate for Congress, for a joint canvass of the district since he declared some days ago here that he would willingly agree to meet whoever went into the field against him.

At The Grand.

"Beulah" was seen at The Grand last night by a small audience and was only indifferently presented. The management is looking for a big house for the next attraction, "The Gentleman From Mississippi" which was given here last winter and gave complete satisfaction.

"Do you believe that music prevents crime?"

"To a certain extent," replied Mr. Sinnick. "When a man keeps both hands and his breath busy with a cornet you know he can't be picking pockets, attempting homicide or slandering his neighbors."—Washington Star.

A Comparison.

In a school at Washington a boy was asked to compare the word "sick."

The little fellow arose in his place, looked around him for a moment, his face a picture of deep thought, and then he said:

GOOD WAY TO DO BUSINESS

In offering a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at 25 cents, Howard Gardner is giving one of the greatest trade chances ever offered to the people of Greensboro.

If food does not digest well, if there is gas or pain in the stomach, if the tongue is coated and the breath bad, if there is constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not, you have druggist Gardner's personal guarantee to reurn your money.

This remarkable remedy comes in the form of tiny granules, and can be carried in the vest pocket or purse. It is very popular in New York city, and it is not unusual to see someone after a meal at one of the large hotels or restaurants, take a dose of this specific, knowing that it will prevent the uncomfortable feeling which frequently follows a hearty meal.

Accept No Substitutes

You exercise your own mind when you ask for an advertised article, therefore insist on getting what you ask for when making a purchase.

The dealer who substitutes relies on his ability to make you change your mind. He will give you what you ask for if you refuse a substitute.

Substitute articles pay him a larger profit. That's why he tries to change your mind. When your mind is made up, keep it so by insisting on getting what you want.

TOOK SERGEANT'S HAT.

Officer Pearce Compelled To Wear Borrowed Head-Gear Last Night.

Police Sergeant R. E. Pearce had the misfortune to lose possession of his hat last night and was compelled to wear borrowed head-gear while on his inspection tours during the night. The party who deprived the sergeant of his hat left one in its place, but Officer Pearce says that he would not give his headgear for two hats like the one left him. So the purloiner of his property would do well to return the hat and make amends rather than risk getting into trouble.

Sergeant Pearce stated that when he came on duty last night he removed his hat and placed it on the desk with his billy. When relieved in the office he gathered up a hat that was lying just where he had placed his an hour previous, but it would not fit. An inspection showed that some one had adroitly changed hats, leaving him one of like color, but not of like quality. He stated last night that he had his man spotted, but would not reveal the name of the person for fear he would take French leave just as he had taken the Sergeant's hat. Unless the hat is returned early this morning the whole matter will likely be aired before Judge Eure in Municipal court.

WHERE HE GOT THE LIQUOR.

Drunk Placed on Stand and Required to Give Out Facts.

Martin Fewell, colored, was in Municipal court yesterday morning on the charge of being drunk and Judge Eure took occasion to place him under oath and ascertain just where he got the liquor to make his legs wabble. As a result of the ad testificandum proceedings Frank Boyd, colored, was locked up last night on the charge of retailing and will be given a hearing this morning.

According to Fewell's testimony he went to the "club," on East Washington street Tuesday morning and purchased from Boyd a quart of the "ardent," paying therefor the sum of $1.50. He then proceeded to get gloriously drunk without intending to start up a celebration, but the whiskey got the better of him and as a result he was locked up after his legs had gotten so wabbly that he could not navigate. Boyd, of course, denied selling the liquor.

Polling Place Changed.

The Guilford County Board of Elections has changed the polling place of Precinct No. 3, which was formerly in the offices of the late J. H. Walsh, North Elm street. The new polling place is at 105 and 107 East Market street in the new Fisher building.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month. with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R .R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S. C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

Very few people who have not made a study of the subject can tell good shoes from the other kind. Shoes worth $2.50 and those worth $3, when made on the same lasts and finished in the same style, look very much alike—so much so that often even an expert couldn't tell one from the other without cutting them open and getting at their true inwardness. All of which goes to show that it pays to buy shoes from people in whom you have confidence, people who will sell you good shoes and who will back up what they tell you about them. There are two things that have done a great deal towards building up our splendid shoe trade in this town—one the selling of good shoes, the other our "money back if you don't like the goods" rule, backed up by a guarantee of good wear. Our fall stock is now complete, and we will take great pleasure in showing you some of the best shoes you ever looked at.

Kid Toilet Slippers—We have just received another shipment of those nice black and red kid toilet slippers, all sizes from 2 1-2 to 8, price $1.25. Also black and red suede "Fluffy Ruffles" boudoir slippers, very fine grade, price $2.00. Thacker & Brockmann.

New button and laced shoes for infants, 50c., 75c., and $1.00. Same with spring heels, 65 and 75c. Babies's soft sole shoes, white, black, tan, and patent, button and laced, 25 and 50c. Big stock button and laced shoes for small girls and boys at popular prices. Thacker & Brockmann.

It begins to feel like frost these mornings. Better bring your girls and boys in and let us fit them up with a nice pair of new shoes for fall wear. All sizes here now made from the best leathers in correct shapes for growing feet. Thacker & Brockmann.

CAUGHT IN STORM FOUR MILES IN AIR

Awful Plungs of Aeronauts in Big Balloon Race—All Night in Blinding Rain—Miss Sophia And Her Pilots Still Missing—Baldwin Appears in New York—Almost Farce.

Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—Conyers B. Graham and Arthur T. Atherholt, the Philadelphia aeronauts, who manned the Pennsylvania II in the balloon race from Indianapolis, returned here today battered and bruised as the result of the wrecking of their aircraft in a terrific storm at Dexter, Ohio, Sunday. Both narrowly escaped with their lives, being caught 24,000 feet in the air with only three bags of ballast. They descended with such terrific force that their balloon rebounded 100 feet from the ground, carrying with it the occupants entangled in the rope work of the basket.

The Pennsylvania with the other entries in the race kept well together until the storm hit them at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

"Rain poured in torrents," said Mr. Graham today. "We were blinded by it, and intense darkness and absolutely lost our way. We floundered all night, the winds blowing fiercely. Early Sunday morning we were driven to an altitude of 13,000 feet. In descending it cost us seven bags of ballast. We had three left when we were suddenly lifted to an amazing height. It must have been some atmospheric freak that caused it. The barometer showed 24,000 feet. It was a trying moment.

"Tossing out our ballast we descended like a shot. When we hit it was with terific force. We were both caught under the basket, but clung to the ropes as the balloon rebounded about 100 feet. We were both stunned and considerably bruised."

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause breakdowns. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Mrs. N. C. Weatherly Will Do a Strictly Cash Business.

After September 15, Mrs. Weatherly will discontinue the credit business and sell strictly for cash on delivery. This step will be of mutual benefit, for it is evident, that if no money is put out for stationery, postage, collectors per cent and no lost accounts, she can sell goods much less than any house running on the credit system. Her goods will be marked for cash and sold for cash only. Mrs. Weatherly wishes to take the opportunity to thank the ladies for their liberal patronage and solicit a continuance of the same under the new cash system.

Craddock Shoes Make Short Miles

It's uphill work getting satisfaction out of some shoes. They may look real nice and prove to be all looks. They may wear well only to look like sixty very shortly, and more than often they are built of such tough, stiff leather that they punish the feet excruciatingly.

The CRADDOCK SHOE

$3.50 All Leathers $4.00

is a good shoe for any man, for any purpose. It is built of the right stuff in the right way. It costs little enough at the start and that little proves a good investment in long wear, snappy style and just the kind of comfort your feet are entitled to. You'll go farther and fare worse, many many times, before you'll find the equal of the Craddock Shoes even at $5.00 and $6.00.

TIZ—For Sore Feet

Tired, Aching, Swollen, Smelly, Sweaty Feet? Corns, Callouses or Bunions? Use TIZ...It's Sure, Quick And Certain.

You Will Enjoy Using TIZ. The Most Pleasant Remedy You Ever Tried and Moreover It Works.

At last here is instant relief and a lasting permanent remedy for sore feet. No more tired feet. No more aching feet. No more swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more corns. No more bunions. No more callouses, no matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use TIZ.

TIZ is totally unlike anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleanses them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time its used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists 25 cents per box or direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Dodge Building, Chicago, Ill.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Mannell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '09, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 4 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2nd he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on a new principle and with a new discovery stops the cause and you receive the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two dollar bottles guaranteed.

For Fariss-Klutz Drug Co., and Greensboro Drug Co., Special Agents.

EDMOND ROSTAND'S BARBER.

Has Shaved Poet for Years, Yet never Heard Him Speak.

Paris Letter to London Telegraph.

One of M. Edmond Rostand's most fervent admirers is a sad and almost despairing man. For years he has felt like tearing his hair with mortification, and time only increases his chagrin. He is the poet's barber, and he has never heard the poet speak. He has shaved him daily and cut his still plentiful locks weekly for years at Cambo, but he has never managed to make him open his lips, though he has thrown out the most fetching suggestions, made the most ludicrous observations, given the most exasperating hints that the conversational knowledge of the barber can devise, but he has never moved M. Rostand to words either in interest, sympathy or rage. The poet may have winced, frowned, smiled, may even have shed tears at the hairdresser's persistent efforts to draw him, but he has never been drawn.

The tortured barber of Cambo suffers the more because other great men have spoken to him. When geniuses go down to visit M. Rostand they get M. Rostand's barber to shave them; they speak to him and, what is worse, speak to him of M. Rostand. Coquelin was shaved by him and spoke to him. Signor Gabrilele d'Annunzio has been shaved by him and has spoken to him. M. Rostand alone is silent. The despairing barber, who has never been to Paris, has made up his mind to come up the next time M. Rostand comes, and to force or worm his way into duchesses' drawing-rooms, where he has been told that the poet sometimes recites verses.

A Reliable Medicine—NOT A NARCOTIC

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." Holton Drug Co.

Not the Same.

"When you first came to see me you stood under my window with a guitar and serenaded me," said Mr. Prozy's wife.

"I remember that. I haven't time to do so now. But I'll tell you what I'll do. Just let me know what hours will suit you and I'll pay a piano wagon to come around and play all you like."—Washington Star.

The Lash of a Fiend

would have been about as welcome to A. Copoer, of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It has most trouble some at night,' he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never cough at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hayfever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. Doctor—That of a messenger boy who died of hasty consumption.—Chicago News.

Mrs. Jacob Wilmert, Lincoln, Ill., found her way back to perfect health. She writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble and backache and my appetite was very poor at times. A few week's ago I got Foley's Kidney Pills and gave them a fair trial. They gave me great relief, so continued till now I am again in perfect health." Holton Drug Co.

YOU'RE AN APE, SAYS "T. R."

But the Dignified Griscom Butler Differs With Him.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 20.—"You're an ape." The speaker was Col. Theodore Roosevelt, the eminent faunal naturalist, impatient, dusty, unrecognized. The person addresed was the dignified English butler at the summer home of Lloyd C. Griscom, Chairman of the New York county Republican Committee.

"No, indeed, sir; no indeed," was the dignified reply. The butler had told Colonel Roosevelt that Mr. Griscom was at home. Journeying in his automobile to Mr. Griscom's house, Colonel Roosevelt found the butler was mistaken and his wrath was mighty.

Mr Griscom not being at home Col. Roosevelt was directed to the Park City Yacht Club. There he found that Mr. Griscom was at the Bridgeport Yacht Club in the other end of the city. The Colonel's temperature was high, and he contented himself with telephoning.

SAINT'S BLOOD FLOWS ANEW.

St. Januarius Miracle Effected Again in Naples After Prayer.

Naples, Sept. 19.—The phenomenon of liquefaction of the blood of St. Januarius took place today after prayers lasting 55 minutes, in the presence of a great multitude. The people interpret the rapidity of the liquefaction as proof that the peril from the cholera is over.

In the great church at Naples are preserved the head and some of the blood of Januarius, Bishop of Benevente, who was beheaded for the faith near Puteoli. The blood, as his acts relate, was gathered from the ground by a poor woman at the time of the martyrdom, and inclosed in two small glass phials. On several occasions, it is recorded, his relics were carried in procession during eruptions of Vesuvius. The standing miracle of the liquefaction of the blood of St. Januarius consists in the bringing the congealed pieces near to the head, the phials being placed on the altar and prayer being made. After a longer or shorter interval the blood is said to become liquid and to flow.

Editor Telegram:

I am sorry to see from the proceedings of the Board of Aldermen and Water and Light Commission, that the private consumers of electricity and gas in Greensboro are about to be left out entirely in making the lighting contract with the Public Service Company, which it is stated will probably be finally acted on Friday night.

The silence of the private consumer on this vital subject is no sign that he taking no interest in the matter. But that he has been trusting our city authorities to look out for and protect his interests in this respect, which it is their duty to do, and which they have appeared until now, to be willing to do. And I simply wish to say that it is my opinion that our city authorities should close any contract with the Public Service Company unless they have some provision guaranteeing to the people of this city a considerably lower rate for gas and electric lights than the present exorbitant rates.

Respectfully,

T. J. MURPHY.

Charged With Stealing Paint.

Joe Andrews, a white man, was locked up last night in default of a $200 bond on the charge of the larceny of paint from the Odell Hardware Company. It seems that Andrews was instructed to get some paint by Power & Armstrong, which he did. He then went back after a second supply and tried to sell this to Mr. D. E. Thomas, or rather pawn it. He claims that he did not steal it and that he did not intend to defraud or "do" anyone.
